GIVE YOUR CAR HIGH ANTI-KNOCK IN BOTH SPEED RANGES

Don't you find that you drive your car mainly in the two speed ranges symbolized by these boats? You use the low speed range in traffic and the high speed range on the open road. Therefore for knockless driving, you need a gasoline that gives high anti-knock in both these speed ranges—not in just one.

Small Time Gambler Two-Timed By Smart Customer At Sanford

SANFORD, Oct. 16. (FNS)—To T. R. Higgins, staff correspondent of the Orlando Morning Sentinel, goes credit for uncovering one of the best laugh stories of the year. It has to do with the downfall of a small-time gambler who was "two-timed" by a smart customer.

Operating a number racket in which the better actors to guess three numbers taken from the daily sales of stocks and bonds on the New York Stock Exchange, the gambler was accepting bets in a routine manner one bright Saturday morning when business picked up with a vim. In less than an hour he had accepted bets to a total of $20,000,000 and the eager customers were all betting on the same number.

And believe it or not, that number was the winner. The bettors knew it when they placed their bets, but the gambler didn't. This particular play was made on the last day of daylight saving time. The market closed in New York at 12 noon, which was 11 a.m. in Sanford. The gambler did not consider the hour difference in time but a customer did, and telegraphed the New York Stock Exchange for the total sales of that day. The reply reached him by 11:30 and as the racketeer was still accepting bets the customer told as many friends as he could reach and all of them put up a roll on a "sure thing."

The poor dupe who was holding the bag wired for the total at 12 noon, Sanford time, and found he had been taken for a beautiful ride. He owed $20,000,000 and couldn't pay off for the

That ended the numbers racket in Sanford. He folded up, but forgot to give the suckers even their money back.

The pay off in the racket is $4.50 for every penny bet which looks like whooping odd for the actor, if he hasn't figured out that the chance to win is 999 against him.

Dania Drops Game To Hobsonmen 20-0 Reserves 1 in Play

Walter Kautz, Smallest Man on Squad, Saw Action In Game

Coach Frank Hobson's Pahokee Blue Devils defeated the Dania night on Laid field by a score of 20 to 0. It was the second victory in as many starts for the locals. They defeated Delray Beach the Friday night before by a score of 25 to 0. In the first game of the season at Stuart, the Blue Devils tasted defeat at the hands of the Martin county boys by a score of 14 to 7.

Last Friday night's encounter proved an easy one for the Blue Devils and Hobson gave many of his reserves an opportunity to shine on the field. In this group of reserves given a chance by the coach was Walter Kautz, the smallest of the football playing Kautzes. Walter claims that he weighs more than 100 pounds but it runs in the mind of the reporter that he weighs more in the mind of the official physician's office listed his weight at 95.

Young Kautz proved that weight doesn't mean a thing when a fellow wants to play football. At one stage in the game he snugged a Dania pass and tore loose for the goal line. However, a couple of Dania tacklers turned him wrong-side out a couple of times when they hit him and stopped his goalward effort.

Hobson said this week that his reserves showed up good and he was satisfied with the progress they are making.

Nephew Of Pahokee Man Is Grid Star

The football team at Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill., holds a great deal of interest for at least two football fans in the Lake Okechobee Region — Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Graham. They have a nephew — Otto Graham — who has been covering himself with glory this season playing on that team. In last Saturday's game he trotted across the goal line for a couple of markers for Northwestern.

Young Otto Graham is the son of O. B. Graham of Waukegan, Ill., a brother of Pahokee's H. C. Graham. The elder Graham is an instructor in the music department of Waukegan schools where young Graham played football before entering the university.

"An excerpt from an Associated Press story from Evanston yesterday had the following to say about young Graham:

"Against Wisconsin, Northwestern showed its high championship comeback class. Even though they gave the Badgers 44 points in the first period, the Wildcats didn't become rattled. Bill de Corveant looked great and with his understudy, Otto Graham, gave Northwestern as fine a left halfback twosome as there is in the college game today."
